Rethinking Inclusive Teaching

Disciplinarity and Diversity in Higher Education

Friday, September 8, 2017 - 3:00pm
Humboldt Scholars Lab
(Library Third Floor)

Visiting Scholar Linda Adler-Kassner of University of California Santa Barbara, illuminates the connections between the important goals of anti-racism and equity to strategies for creating disciplinary access for all students.

Her talk will help HSU faculty think about learning bottlenecks in their own courses and how to support learning for all students by making disciplinary concepts more visible and accessible. Followed by Q and A.

Follow-up Workshop:
Rethinking Inclusive Teaching: Designs for Disciplinary Access

Friday, September 22, 2017 3:00 - 4:30 pm
Facilitated by: Lisa Tremain, English and Janelle Adsit, English

Seats are limited; register now! https://ctl.humboldt.edu/events