Mapping Your Research Audience:

Expanding Your Funding and Partnership Landscape

In the current funding environment, "pivoting" to new funders and projects is essential to maintaining research momentum. This interactive workshop helps faculty identify new possibilities by mapping the broader audiences, stakeholders, organizations, and communities that may have an interest in their research.

Through individual reflection and small-group discussion, participants will explore potential funders, collaborators, and partners beyond the obvious disciplinary sources, while considering how those opportunities align with their scholarly priorities, research outputs, and career goals.
