Group Meetings:

- Mentors may attend peer group meetings and will be available via email to answer questions and guide next steps.
- Groups will meet via Zoom at least once per month for at least one hour to share feedback and to hold each other accountable for writing progress.
- Meeting activities are flexible
 - Examples: rotating each member's draft, a section of every members' drafts, or Q&A session
- Group members are expected to spend at least one hour/week writing, reviewing, and/or meeting

Group Composition:

Every effort will be made to consider preferences; however, group size and composition will be determined by the number and types of registrations received. The registration survey requests your preferences for a group of people:

- who have a similar or different title
 - Asst Prof, Assoc Prof, Prof, Lecturer/Adjunct/PT faculty, Administrator/Staff
- who are in a similar or different discipline
- who identify as a member of an underrepresented group

Diverse groups benefit from a wider range of experiences, insights, perspectives, methodological approaches, literature knowledge, and theoretical applications. Homogeneous groups may provide a higher level of comfort and a shared language.
