

GEOLOGY COLLOQUIUM

Departments of Geology and Geography present
Five minute "pop-up" talks!

Register in advance for this meeting:

https://humboldtstate.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZwkfugugjluGdEv_Caf3c5DXCj19CrrjtZ3

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

Decoding the 3-billion-year gap in South Africa's geologic rock record
Jaclyn Baughman, Department of Geology

An Alaskan Volcanic Eruption that's Gotten Bigger with Age
Brandon Browne, Department of Geology

Global change and forests in Southwest Alaska
Rosemary Sheriff, Department of Geography

Tales from mud cores: new records of climate change in northern California
Laura Levy, Department of Geology

Reconstructing Past Environments Using Historical Records
Chelsea Teale, Department of Geography

Seeing in four dimensions: an example from the Klamath Mountains
Melanie Michalak, Department of Geology

Making Better Maps: 5 Tips in 5 Minutes
Amy Rock, Department of Geography

Science, society and students in Andean Perú
Jasper Oshun, Department of Geology

Quantifying Territoriality: Spatial Analysis of Religious Structures in Tatarstan, Russia
Matthew Derrick, Department of Geography

Monday, September 13, 2021, 5:00-6:15 PM (via Zoom, click the link above to register). Hope to see you there!!!