Trillium Project Conference

Sustainability Across the Curriculum

Free Event! Breakfast and lunch will be provided.

Step out of the classroom and into an immersive experience where sustainability meets teaching, learning, and life. The Trillium Project Conference will be an experiential, yet analog retreat—designed to help you pause, unplug, and reflect. Educators and practitioners of all kinds can benefit from this sustainability curriculum session. Higher education students are welcome too!

For more information, contact Morgan Barker, Sustainability Librarian at mew11@humboldt.edu

1 unit of contract credit available through Cal Poly Humboldt College of Extended Education*

Choose your path:

- In-Person on October 2, 2026 | Humboldt Bay Aquatic Center, Eureka, CA | 9am–3pm: This will be a day of authentic connection, experiential activities, and sincere reflection time. Join us out on the bay. Healthy, local food included.
limited to first 50 registrations*
- Remote Asynchronous: Follow along on your own time with curated content and reflection prompts, designed to be experienced outdoors in your own environment.
unlimited registrations - delivered 1 month after the in-person event.*

Whether in person or remote, you'll slow down, read, write, and rediscover your own "how and why."
